Pima Community College is in the midst of strategic planning that has the potential to profoundly impact the future direction of the College and the community. I am inviting you to take part in this important process by joining the College’s Strategic Planning Committee.

The Strategic Planning Committee has been charged with taking the broad initiatives that emerge from the PCC Futures Conference, a meeting of community thought leaders and decision-makers scheduled for Feb. 18, and by end of April, converting them into a multiyear strategic plan that

- comprises well-defined actions
- contains measurable performance indicators
- incorporates community leadership feedback
- aligns with PCC operations as well as local/state/national initiatives

As you probably realize, this is an ambitious objective. You have been asked to take part because of your PCC subject-area expertise, because you have experience in PCC’s ongoing accreditation activities, and, most importantly, because you share a deep interest in the development of our community.

The timeline is equally ambitious and the time commitment will not be inconsequential. It will start at the Futures Conference from 8 a.m.-10:30 a.m. on February 18 at the Doubletree Hotel Tucson, 445 S. Alvernon Way. (The event begins with a Continental breakfast from 7:30-8 a.m.)

I encourage you to RSVP your attendance to the Futures Conference at collegeevents@pima.edu. You may be asked to serve as a small-group facilitator or scribe at the conference.

The first meeting of the Strategic Planning Committee will take place during the week of February 24.

Should you be unable to serve on the Strategic Planning Committee, please email Planning and Institutional Research at mlhenry2@pima.edu.

Thank you for our help in this worthy endeavor. With your help, the College can make a difference in the academic, cultural and economic vitality of our community.

Sincerely,

Lee D. Lambert
Chancellor
