Colleagues,

I am pleased to announce that Dan Berryman is the College’s Vice Chancellor for Human Resources.

Strengthening our organization’s culture and diversity are among my top goals, and the Vice Chancellor of Human Resources will be instrumental in their achievement. Dan brings to PCC nearly a quarter-century of expertise in Human Resources in public higher education and the private sector. He has the wide-ranging experience needed to increase the effectiveness of HR and enhance the experiences of our employees.

Dan currently is Assistant Vice Chancellor, Human Resources at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville. He facilitates the delivery of HR services to more than 7,000 employees supporting 27,000 students. Among his duties is service on a university-wide committee tasked with a wide range of initiatives, including recruitment, retention, leadership development and succession planning. He also serves on the University of Tennessee’s five employee-relations committees as well as commissions for African-Americans, women and the LGBT community.

Dan has worked as Deputy Division Leader in Human Resources at the Los Alamos National Laboratory in New Mexico, which plays a key role in maintaining the U.S.’ nuclear arsenal. Also, he was Vice President, Human Resources for Siemens Transportation Systems, Inc.

Dan served for three years in the U.S. Marine Corps as a lieutenant. He has a master’s degree in Human Resources Management from Pepperdine University and a bachelor’s degree in Sociology from the University of California-Santa Barbara.

Dan is no stranger to Arizona, having worked as Human Resources Operations Manager for Motorola Corp. in Chandler. In Arizona, his community involvement included membership on the Governor’s Task Force on AIDS and the Valley of the Sun United Way Resource Allocation Committee.

Dan is a member of the Society of Human Resource Management and the College and University Professional Association-Human Resources, and is a Certified Senior Professional in Human Resources.

I would like to thank the search committee for the important role they played in filling this key position and East Campus President Charlotte Fugett and General Counsel Jeff Silvyn for providing leadership in Human Resources during the search to fill the Vice Chancellor’s position on a permanent basis. Dan is scheduled to begin his new duties early next year. Please join me in welcoming him back to Arizona and to Pima Community College.

Lee D. Lambert,
Chancellor
