Career Services

Why are you in college? Do you have a specific goal or are you still deciding? Go to MyPima, Click on the Student Resources tab and use the resources provided in the Career Planning section.

- Check out Pima's Student Success (STU) classes, which will help you learn more about yourself and about possible careers or majors that might be a good fit for you.
- Meet with a career counselor for individualized help.
- Visit a campus Student Services Center for information on all kinds of jobs and careers, and helpful websites for exploration of self and relevant career fields.
- Talk with faculty members about their teaching fields.
- Seek information on internships or job shadowing.

Career Preparation

Many people go to college to develop their skills for a future career. The more you do to round out your educational experience, the better chance you'll have at that dream job. Success doesn't happen by itself. Make a plan and chart your own course! The sooner you start, the sooner you will begin to put things into place to help you achieve your goals. Begin with the following steps:

- Assess your interests and skills.
- Learn about and explore possibilities.
- Research a variety of career paths.
- Prepare your job-hunting tools.
- Do your homework:
 - determine which employers would be a good fit for your skills;
 - research each employer that seems a good fit for you to find out what it does and what it needs.
- Determine if you can apply online.

Develop a Cover Letter

Your cover letter is the first contact you'll have with a potential employer or supervisor. It should be addressed to a specific person and attached to your résumé.

- State the job you are interested in and how you learned of the position.
- Describe how your education, skills and experience would be an asset.
- Ask for an interview.
- Note that your résumé is attached.

Develop Your Résumé

Your résumé is a snapshot of the professional you, a calling card to get you into an interview. Put your best foot forward. Make sure your résumé:

- Is truthful. Not only is lying a bad idea, it is the quickest way to lose a job.
- Is clear. Use easily readable fonts, and keep it to one or two pages.
- Highlights your personal strengths, those that fit the requirements of the job. Modify your résumé for each new application, tailoring it to the specifics of the position you're seeking.
- Stands out, professionally speaking, in a stack. Try heavier stock, nice linen paper or a slightly different color hue (stay with the standard size).
- Has clear sections that are easy to scan, and tell enough about you to gain interest.
- Tells the employer how you can help its business.

Note: Inquire at any Student Services Center about uploading your résumé to your account at MyPima.

Interview Tips

Once you get in the door, let yourself shine and show the interviewer why you are the right match for the company and the job.

- Dress professionally.
- Smile and offer a firm handshake.
- Make direct eye contact.
- Be confident and courteous.
- Portray a professional attitude.
- Keep an open posture.
- Clarify questions.
- Speak clearly and to the point.
- Steer clear of questions on salary/benefits.
- Ask when the company will be making a decision.
- Write down the interviewer's name/title.
- Send a thank you note.

Applying for Graduation (www.pima.edu/graduation)

- The semester before you plan to graduate, check your MyDegreePlan to see if you are close to completing your degree. You may be closer than you realize.
- Complete a Graduation Application (linked online at www.pima.edu/graduation) and turn it in at any campus Student Services Center.
- PCC holds one graduation ceremony per year, in the spring. If you are a fall or summer graduate, you also are eligible to participate in spring graduation activities.

Create Your Class Schedule

View the Schedule of Classes at www.pima.edu/schedule or at any campus. Carefully check:

- Section Code – Course Reference Number (CRN)
- Location – It takes time to travel from one location to another
- Class days and times – Make sure they don't overlap.
TBA (under class day or time) means "To Be Arranged" by you. You must contact either the lab, the facility or the instructor to arrange your hours.
- Delivery method – Decide what type of class you want to take, for example, traditional, self-paced, or online course (see page 8 for explanations of all delivery methods).
- Start and end date – Not all classes run the full semester
- Finalize your schedule before the semester begins

Choose Classes for Your Learning Style and Life

Pima courses are offered in a variety of formats. Below, review the many formats by which courses are delivered and determine what works best for you.

Note: Tools to better understand each format are being developed. Be on the lookout for “factors that facilitate success” on www.pima.edu and in MyPima in the Student Resources tab.

- Traditional/Face-to-face Classroom:
Students attend classes at a designated physical location and on specified days and times. Students may be required to work online or use specific software to complete assignments.
- Distance/Online Education:
Students participate and interact with the instructor and other students in an online environment. Weekly online participation, as defined in the class syllabus, is required. Any required in-person activity, such as taking a proctored exam or attending a class orientation, is offered in alternative formats for students who cannot physically attend.
- Hybrid:
Students participate in a blend of traditional face-to-face and online instruction. Students attend classes at a designated physical location on specified days and times and also participate academically online. Weekly participation, as defined in the class syllabus, is required.
- Self-paced On Campus (“Face-to-face Self-paced”):
Students work at a designated campus location at their own pace. Instruction is provided during specified hours and students must attend at least once per week.
- Self-paced Independent:
Students work independently using study materials prepared by the instructor. Students must meet with the faculty in the defined room during the first week of classes, then must complete at least one academically-related task per week, including during the first week. Faculty provides instructional support during times specified in the syllabus.

Alternative-Timeframe Classes

The Schedule of Classes allows you to select many different class timeframes. For this reason it is very important for you to review all start and stop dates for all classes. Options include:

- 5-Week Classes

5-week classes are accelerated and have specific start and stop dates. Three 5-week sessions are scheduled during each traditional semester.

- 8-Week Classes

8-week classes are accelerated and have specific start and stop dates. Two 8-week sessions are scheduled during each traditional semester.

- 14-Week Late-Start Classes

14-week late-start classes begin after the traditional semester starts, last 14 weeks and have specific start and stop dates. All normal course content is covered, so classes are slightly accelerated.

- Weekend Classes

All campuses offer classes that allow you to attend only on weekends. This is a great way to complete a degree or to supplement your overall enrollment.

Note: The College plans to expand course offerings; check www.pima.edu, for the most up-to-date options.

Time Management

As you progress through your college experience, you will juggle school, family, employment and other obligations. To be a successful student, you must learn new ways to organize and manage your time. Time management gives you the ability to do the things you want and the things you must do.

The amount of time you need to devote to college is much more than just the time you spend in class. The basic formula for college is to allow at least two hours of study time outside of class for every hour you are in class (2-for-1 formula).

How often you need to study for a class depends on your learning ability for that subject area. A key to success in all college courses is to set aside a few minutes every day to review your notes, what you have read, or your homework assignments. A daily 10- to 30-minute review can make a huge difference in your success in a class.

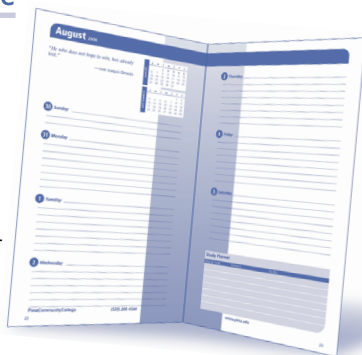

Use the Planning Calendar to begin managing your time for college. List all of your courses, work schedule, test dates and personal obligations. Then figure the amount of study hours you need using the 2-for-1 formula. Try to spread your study hours out over the week; rarely schedule a study time for longer than three hours. If you need assistance, enroll in a Student Success Class or make an appointment with a College counselor who will be happy to assist you in developing your time management study schedule.

Planning Your Weekly Schedule

See where your time goes on a daily basis.

Weekly Schedule

Writing notes and important dates in your weekly schedule can help you deal with the demands on your time. You can incorporate blocks of time for study, work, recreation and all of the other important details of life.

General Financial Aid Information

Do not let the lack of funds prevent you from attending college. You may apply for financial aid—money given or loaned to you to cover your expenses while you attend college. Although the federal government provides the largest amount of aid, the State of Arizona, Pima Community College and private donors also provide funds to those who qualify.

Types of Aid

- Grants – financial aid you don't have to pay back
- Work Study – work and earn money to help pay for school
- Loans – borrowed money that you must repay with interest

Undergraduates who have not yet earned a bachelor's degree may receive all three types of financial aid.

In addition, Pima Community College provides a variety of scholarships from state funds and private donors. Some scholarships are set up for students in a particular program, while several scholarships for students, set up by private donors, are based on merit or program of study.

Applying for Federal Financial Aid

Everyone who enrolls at Pima should apply for financial aid. Don't assume that you are not eligible—you may qualify for scholarships or other non-need-based aid. Most types of financial aid, federal and otherwise, use the information from the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) to determine eligibility. Many types of financial aid use other ways of determining eligibility, such as your field of study (major), your grade point average or involvement in extracurricular activities.

The first step in applying for most types of financial aid is to complete the FAFSA using one of the following methods:

- Input your FAFSA online through www.fafsa.gov (quickest method)
- Print a FAFSA form at www.fafsa.gov, complete it and mail it to the federal government.

You may apply for financial aid at any time during the school year and Pell Grant eligibility is not affected by how early or late you apply. Students who submitted a 2015-2016 FAFSA and all requested documentation to PCC's Financial Aid Office by July 1, 2015, were guaranteed to have a decision about their financial aid eligibility for the 2015-2016 academic year made and communicated to them prior to the first payment deadline in August.

Veterans Educational Benefits

If you are a veteran, or a survivor or dependent of a veteran, you may be eligible for veterans educational benefits, tuition deferment and/or a Veteran's Book Loan. In MyPima, go to the Financial Aid tab, Quick Links section and click on Veterans Services or contact any campus Student Services Center for in-person assistance. For more information on eligibility and on how to apply, visit www.pima.edu/veterans.

Other Financial Resources

In addition to awards of federal and state financial aid and veterans educational benefits, other resources to pay for college are available. Here are just a few examples:

- Pima Community College helps students achieve their dreams through scholarships and grants. For more details, visit www.pima.edu/scholarships. Some of these are:
 - PCC Student Grants Program: This program includes Aztec Activity grants for student life activities and Pima Opportunity grants, which are based on financial need. PCC grants cover full or partial tuition and fees, and/or a textbook stipend to qualified, selected applicants.

- Pima Book Scholarships: Funded by the Follett Bookstore, they are available to help qualified PCC students purchase books and supplies.
- Scholarships available through community, civic, religious, political, special interest and business organizations
- Full-time and part-time jobs
- Summer jobs
- PCC Foundation offers scholarships to PCC students. Check the Foundation website at www.pima.edu/foundation.

Technology Resources

Access Technology

Access Technology at PCC is typically software used to customize access to educational materials. It can be used to do such things as read aloud documents, modify computer screen appearance and organize writing. In addition, users have the option to operate the computer screen/mouse/keyboard-free. Nearly all computer stations on PCC campuses have access technology available. Demonstration and/or training is available. Contact Access and Disability Resources, 520-206-6688, adrhelp@pima.edu or www.pima.edu/adr.

Student Code of Conduct and Important Information

Pima Community College provides a safe and stimulating environment for the exchange of knowledge. We encourage reasoned discussion, intellectual honesty and a respect for the rights of all persons. The Student Code of Conduct provides you with information about your responsibilities as a student in regard to appropriate behavior and respect for others in the College community. Some information from the Student Code of Conduct, as well as other College policies and important information, follows. For the complete Student Code of Conduct, see www.pima.edu/studenterv/studentcode.

Department of Public Safety

The Pima Community College Department of Public Safety provides an Annual Crime Statistics and Clery Crime Act Report that includes statistics for the previous three years concerning reported crimes that occurred on campus; in certain off-campus buildings or property owned or controlled by the Pima County Community College District; and on public property within, or immediately adjacent to and accessible from a campus or building or property owned or controlled by the College. The report also includes institutional policies concerning College security, such as policies concerning sexual assault, sexual harassment and personal safety, as well as emergency and evacuation plans. You can obtain a copy of this report by calling (520) 206-2671. See the report at www.pima.edu/dps/reports.

Traffic Regulations

The PCC Department of Public Safety has the authority to enforce College, state, county, and city parking and traffic regulations and to issue parking and traffic citations. It can also impound vehicles. The State of Arizona has given the College police officers authority to issue citations for violations of state law and county ordinances.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and understanding the College parking and traffic regulations. For complete information on these regulations, see the Pima County Community College District Parking & Traffic Regulations online at www.pima.edu/dps/parking-traffic-regs.

In accordance with A.R.S. 15-1444D, all vehicles allowed to park in any Pima Community College parking lot must comply with the emissions standard as stated in A.R.S. 49-542.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

Pima Community College informs its students annually of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974. This act, with which the institution intends to fully comply, was designated to protect the privacy of educational records, to establish the right of students to inspect and review their education records, and to provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading data through informal and formal hearings. Students also have the right to file complaints with the Family Policy Compliance Office concerning alleged failures by the institution to comply with the act.

Academic Reporting

Throughout the United States, colleges and universities monitor the progress students make in achieving their academic goals. PCC is pleased to provide information regarding our institution's graduation/completion and transfer rates, in compliance with the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended. Student success information, including information about student-athletes, is available online at www.pima.edu/about-pima/reports, and click on "Federal Reporting," or call 206-4500 for a brochure.

Disclosure of Student Information

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 protects the privacy of student records. Certain directory information is excluded from this law and may be disclosed at the discretion of the College. Public directory information includes a student's name, field of study, dates of attendance, and date of graduation.

If you wish to have directory information withheld by the College, fill out the form in the current Schedule of Classes and submit it to any campus Student Services Center. For more complete details, see the current College Catalog or visit any campus Student Services Center.

Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Information

Pima Community College is committed to the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989 (Public Law 101-226, 20 U.S.C. §1145g).

Prohibitions Related to Illicit Drugs, Alcohol

The unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by students and employees is prohibited. The following misconduct is subject to disciplinary action, including exclusion, suspension, or expulsion:

1. Violating or failing to comply with published rules and regulations of conduct of the College which prohibit the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by students and employees on College property or as part of any of its activities; or
2. Being under the influence of, using, selling, possessing, or distributing any illicit drugs or alcohol on College property or as part of any of its activities. This prohibition includes, but is not necessarily limited to, marijuana (even if you possess an Arizona Department of Health Services medical marijuana card), any narcotic drug, hallucinogen, stimulant, depressant, amphetamine, barbiturate, sniffing glue, aerosol paint, or other chemical substances. Over-the-counter drugs are excluded from consideration unless improperly used.

Legal Sanctions

Local, state, and federal laws prohibit the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol. Conviction for violating these laws can lead to imprisonment, fine, probation, and/or assigned community service. Students convicted of a drug- and/or alcohol-related offense will be ineligible to receive federally funded or subsidized grants, loans, scholarships, or employment. Pima County Community College District will fully subscribe to and cooperate with the local, state, and federal authorities in the enforcement of all laws regarding the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol.

Health Risks

There are definite health risks associated with the use of alcohol and illegal substances. Students who experiment with drugs, alcohol, and illegal substances, or use them recreationally, may develop a pattern of use that leads to abuse and addiction. Use of alcohol and illegal substances is a major factor in accidents and injuries, and among persons between the ages of 18 and 24, it is responsible for more deaths than all other causes combined.

Support Resources

College staff will assist students with appropriate referrals and information concerning drug and alcohol education, counseling, treatment, or rehabilitation or reentry programs that may be available in the community. Contact the Advising and Counseling Center on any campus for information.

For Student Code of Conduct Violations and Procedures, go on online to www.pima.edu/studenterv/studentcode.

Anyone who copies or distributes such material without permission or outside the limits of federal law commits copyright infringement. Unauthorized downloading or uploading, or the file sharing of copyrighted work constitutes and infringement.
