Good afternoon,

The General Education Statement and Outcomes were formally adopted by the Board of Governors on May 13, 2015. As of this date, our general education outcomes are:

- Communication
- Critical and creative thinking
- Quantitative and scientific literacy and analysis
- Information literacy
- Diverse cultural, historical, and global perspectives

These newly adopted general education outcomes replace the previous objectives (learn, community, innovate, participate, aspire).

Many thanks to the General Education Committee for leading this initiative. The committee will also be working closely with Planning and Institutional Research to plan and implement assessment of our general education outcomes.

We hope you will find these outcomes to be helpful in achieving our goal of student success.
